

Kick-off Webinar / April 2022

The Role(s) of the State in Housing: Insights from Africa

We invite you to a kick-off webinar of the upcoming N-AERUS conference, taking place on April 6th, at 10h UTC. We will be discussing the different role of national governments in the supply of affordable housing through different recent experiences in South Africa, Kenya and lusophone African countries. Speakers will include:

- Sarah Charlton, Associate Professor School of Architecture and Planning, and CUBES University of the Witwatersrand
- Jaime Royo Olid, Urban development, sustainable mobility and digitalisation senior officer, EU delegate to Kenya
- Evandro Holz, International Technical Advisor on Housing and Urban Policies for UN_Habitat and The World Bank

The session will be moderated by Anthony Boanada-Fuchs, University of St. Gallen/ N-AERUS coordination.

Please register in advance to this link:

https://unisg.zoom.us/meeting/register/u5wkf-ihqTkpGdbnCODE9zY4uN_F0m4JJbjg